

Use perspective techniques to wrap the box below in string – that is, draw the perspective images of lines that would divide each side in half.

